Paul and Silas had been locked away.

Prisoners, lis'ning to those brothers
Sing with all their might!
- 2. Suddenly a quake, prison floor did shake,
Doors swung open, all the bonds did fall!
“Oh”, the jailer feared, “They've run out of here!”
But then to the jailer Paul did call:
“Fear not, jailer, do no harm!”
“Then what must I do?”
“Believe on Jesus: you'll be saved
And your household, too!”

On nothing but to hear
Some new thing or some great idea
Or some unknown they feared.

The God who made the worlds and all
Is very close to you.”

Chorus: (chorus only after vv. 2 & 4)

“God's not small – doesn't live in Man-made temples, not at all!”
Then came Paul, and told them all,
“God is near, not too far from us all.”

3. “You've made some temples out of stone
To show Him that you care,
But He's the one who made the world,
He cannot fit in there.”

Yes, He Himself's the place.
In Him we live and move and are,
And we are of His race.”

Acts 17:16-32

Song 24

- 1. Set apart for me both Barnabas and Saul
For the work; I have chosen them this day.
Sent out they were by the Holy Spirit,
And so they sailed away.
They announced the promised One in many cities,
To the people they did the Word declare.
Saul was soon called Paul, as they boldly spoke to all,
And established churches everywhere.
- 2. Some came to stir up trouble,
Agitating crowds, they jealously frowned.
With confusion, plots and persecution,
They cast the disciples out of town!
But the brothers just got up
And shook the dust off of their feet
And traveled down the way;
Filled with joy they went,
Turned the world upside-down,
And with boldness preached without delay.
- 3. Paul vigorously reasoned with them all;
Disputed and persuaded and enthralled.
On and on they sailed; the Word prevailed!
In Asia and Europe was the gospel hailed.
In hardships, hunger, thirst, and cold!
In dangers, rivers, robbers so bold!
In prisons, shipwrecks, beaten and stoned.
In the wilderness, at sea, by their race disowned.
Through it all, standing tall, there was Paul
With anxious care for all the churches big or small!

- 4. Many heard, believed, were baptized
And participated in the Body life and fellowship.
Titus, Dorcas, Timothy, Apollos, Lydia, Priscilla
And Aquila – more each trip!
Paul could not go home,
God was sending him to Rome,
There to stand before kings and testify.
Writing letters from jail,
The unhindered Word prevailed,
And the churches still receive supply.

- 5. For centuries, believers so bold
Have journeyed that the gospel be told;
Oh, the truth is heard!
Many hearts are stirred!
More workers to reap the harvest then are spurred!
Send us all like Paul to proclaim the joyful tidings
To the ones who have never heard of it.
Baptizing them into the name
Of the Father and the Son and Holy Spirit!

(Can be sung to: Rondeau - Theme from Masterpiece Theater)
